Freedom School is a non-profit organization that provides academic support and enrichment programs to children in under-resourced communities. Founded in 2002 by renowned children's author Lesa Cline-Ransome, Freedom School has helped thousands of children succeed in school and reach their full potential.

The Freedom School model is based on the belief that all children deserve a quality education, regardless of their socioeconomic status. Freedom School provides children with the academic support they need to succeed in school, as well as enrichment programs that help them develop their creativity, critical thinking skills, and leadership abilities.

Freedom School's programs are offered during the summer and after school. The summer program is a six-week program that provides children with academic instruction, enrichment activities, and field trips. The after-school program is a year-round program that provides children with homework help, tutoring, and enrichment activities.

Freedom School has a proven track record of success. Children who participate in Freedom School programs have shown significant gains in reading and math skills. They are also more likely to graduate from high school and attend college.

Freedom School is a lifeline for children in under-resourced communities. It provides them with the academic support and enrichment programs they need to succeed in school and reach their full potential.

The Founding of Freedom School

Freedom School was founded in 2002 by renowned children's author Lesa Cline-Ransome. Cline-Ransome was inspired to start Freedom School after she saw the need for quality educational opportunities in her own community.

Cline-Ransome started Freedom School with a small group of volunteers and a shoestring budget. The first Freedom School program was held in a local church basement. However, the program quickly grew, and Freedom School soon moved to a larger facility.

Today, Freedom School is a thriving organization with programs in cities across the country. Freedom School has helped thousands of children succeed in school and reach their full potential.

The Freedom School Model

The Freedom School model is based on the belief that all children deserve a quality education, regardless of their socioeconomic status. The summer program is a six-week program that provides children with academic instruction, enrichment activities, and field trips. The after-school program is a year-round program that provides children with homework help, tutoring, and enrichment activities.

Freedom School's programs are designed to be engaging and fun. Children learn through hands-on activities, games, and field trips. Freedom School also provides children with a sense of community and belonging. Children are encouraged to share their stories and experiences, and they are celebrated for their strengths and accomplishments.

The Impact of Freedom School

Freedom School has a proven track record of success. Children who participate in Freedom School programs have shown significant gains in reading and math skills. They are also more likely to graduate from high school and attend college.

In addition to academic gains, Freedom School also helps children develop their social and emotional skills. Children who participate in Freedom School programs are more confident and have a stronger sense of self-worth. They are also more likely to be involved in their communities and to make a positive impact on the world.
